IN-FLIGHT SOLUTIONS

For In-Flight, Estex uses heavyweight industrial fabrics which meet FAR 25.853 (a) used in the cabin for all our products. This ensures years of continued use and far lower replacement costs than using a lighter weight material. There are many options to solve any situation you may have, from size of bag, to color, and printed identification. We can customize the closure method and use locking mechanisms to provide security for the contents. Let us work with you to create a solution for your next material handling situation.
